Nature has certainly done wonders for us in the way of glorious scenery and inviting sheets of water; when man has effectually done his part in the hotels that he sets up and the locomotion he provides, the summer resorts of America will be endeared to every heart as so many happy paradises. Their variety is fairly endless. They skirt our sea-border; they nestle among our hills and mountains; they line our river-courses; they take possession of our islands; they make gay our lakes; they hang over our glens and cascades; they marshal in all places that have a natural grace. The weary town-worker who pants for green hills and shady dells, or longs for Cliffs at Mount Desert. the tonic of tumbling sea-waves, may find his health-giving rest at any point to which he may turn. Away on the coast of Maine are many notable places. First, on its remotest border, and without its dominion, is the island of Grand Manan, the home of fishermen and sea-fowl, with rugged and towering cliffs, and rude, primitive life, but with every condition to attract the artist, the sportsman, and the adventurer. It is not easy of access, being reached only by fishing-vessels from Eastport; but this may...
